

Whilst I'm alive
I'm working hard to be a dream
dead person!

 CHILD CARE PLAN
Wishes for my children

You've nominated a guardian for your children in your will and ultimately this person will be responsible for taking care of and making decisions about your children in the event you become unwell or die and can't take care of them yourself.

Creating a letter of wishes or recording details about your child and their day to day needs can make the immediate transition into someone else's care significantly less stressful whilst also providing information that can help your guardian make longer term decisions.
