

Whilst I'm alive
I'm working hard to be a dream
dead person!

 PERSONAL INFORMATION
Required for my death certificate

PERSONAL DETAILS

After you die your next of kin, a family member, or the person you name as the executor will need to provide detailed personal information about you to the funeral director. It's not unusual to assume people know this information about us, when actually there is lots of information people find difficult to recall under stress or in times of grief (if they ever knew it at all).

Ensuring the correct information is listed on the death certificate is the responsibility of the executor of your estate and will go a long way to helping administer your estate as smoothly as possible.
